

The Evaluation Committee will give priority to papers that present original analysis of high academic standard, preferably multidisciplinary, that is supported by research and/or experience in the field of gender.

Thematic Axes

1. Challenges Posed to Gender Equity Policies by the Globalization Processes.

- Impacts and innovations in gender equality policies in employment, health, poverty, education, economy and social welfare
- Migration
- Women, Violence and Trafficking
- Citizenship, Human Rights and Human Security
- New lifestyles and family configurations
- New national, regional and international agendas and institutions
- Role of Civil Society
- Social and Political Leadership and Participation

2. Women, Science and Equitable Development: Analysis and Proposals for a Virtuous Articulation.

- Vision and contributions of women to Science, Innovations and Development
- Gender perspective in science education
- Professional careers of women scientists
- Gender Equality Politics in the field of science
- Research on women and Science

3. Transformations of Gender Relations in the Context of the Economic Crisis: Lessons Learned and Future Projections.

- Debates on policies to help reconcile women's personal and professional life politics and social cohesion
- Cultural diversity and social inclusion policies
- Women economists' contributions to the understanding and resolution of the crisis
- New forms of production, employment and trade

4. Gender Equality in Constructing the Knowledge Society: Inclusion and Innovation Strategies.

- Gender patterns in strategic uses of ITC
- Women in technological careers and professions
- Women in ICT based enterprises
- Gender in Internet Governance
- Uses of ITC for gender equality
- Gender perspective in the design and production of technological tools
- Biotechnologies, ethical and political debates

5. Challenges to Building an Inter-cultural Dialogue: Women's Voices and Initiatives.

- Theoretical and political debates on diversity, multi and interculturality, pluralism.
- Discrimination, xenophobia and racism
- Education, communication and creation of intercultural societies
- Participation of women from traditionally excluded groups
- Interculturality, human rights
- Role of ITC in intercultural exchanges.